

“International Project To Develop Mutual Cooperation and Assistance in the Area of Coal Worker’s Pneumoconiosis” - Wednesday 20/04/2011

A meeting between experts in various fields discuss pneumoconiosis and related treatment in Tangshan, Hebei, Province,. Foreign experts and a team from the Kailuan Group take part in the discussions. The discussions were followed by a visit to the Kai

Pictured: L-R: Mei-Li Lin, Ph.D (Executive Director, Research and Statistics Services, National Safety Council, Editor; Journal of Safety Council), Dr Bob Cohen (Associate Professor of Internal Medicine), and Dave Feickert, (coal mine safety expert)

Pictured: Dr Bob Cohen (Associate Professor of Internal Medicine), and (right) Dave Feickert (coal mine safety expert) with an official at Kailuan mine

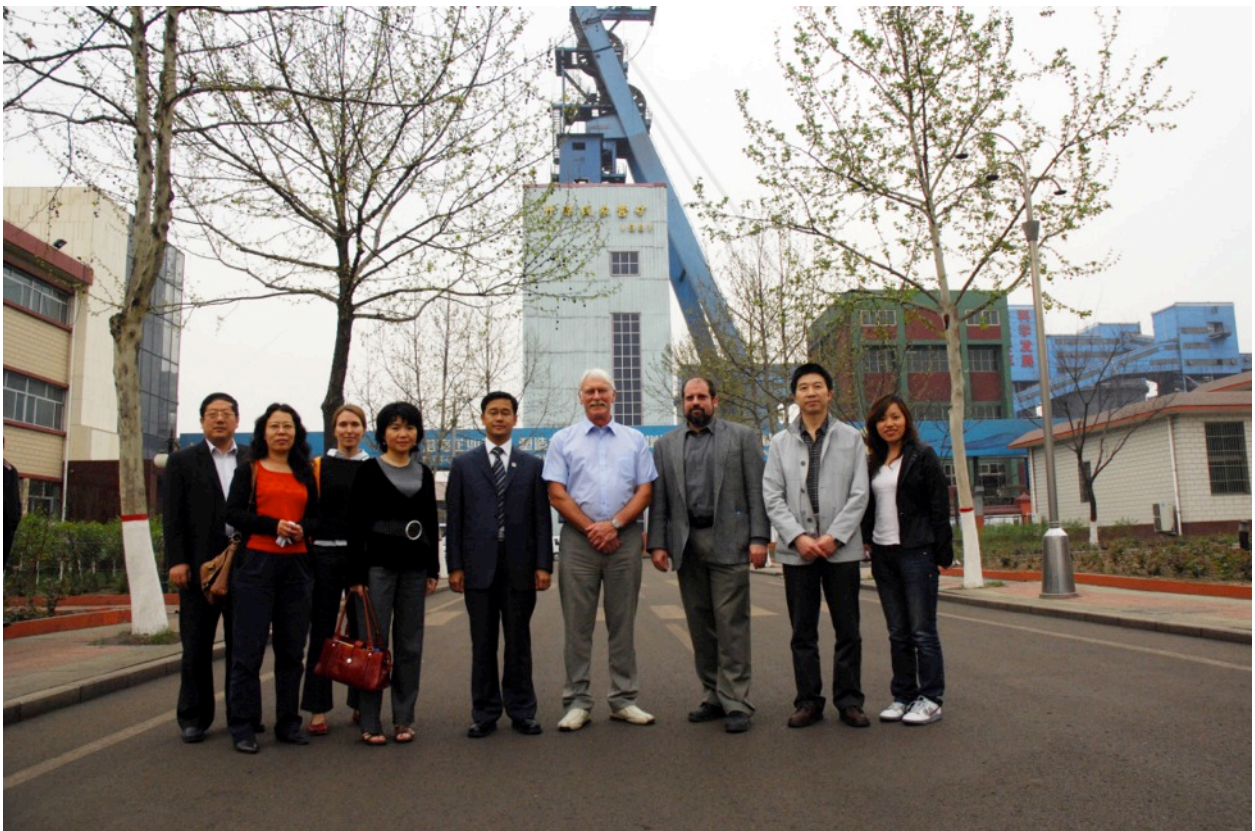

Pictured: L-R: a mine official, Dave Feickert, coal mine safety expert, a mine official and Dr Bob Cohen, Associate Professor of Internal Medicine, on a tour of Kailuan mine

Pictured: Dr Bob Cohen (Associate Professor of Internal Medicine), and Dave Feickert (coal mine safety expert) amongst foreign experts given a tour of Kailuan mine

Pictured: Dr Bob Cohen (Associate Professor of Internal Medicine) and Dave Feickert (coal mine safety expert) are shown around the Kailuan coal mine

Pictured: L-R: ??, Jiang Bingjing (Vice Director and safety engineer, Zhong An Zhi Huan Risk Assessment Co, Beijing) , Sonia Lewycka (epidemiologist), Mei-Li Lin, Ph.D (Executive Director, Research and Statistics Services, National Safety Council, Editor; Journal of Safety Council), ??, Dave Feickert (), Dr Bob Cohen (Associate Professor of Internal Medicine), ??, ??, at the Kailuan coal mine

© Rob Welham BA, freelance photographer

Tel: +44 [0] 7977 11 75 32
Tel: +86 15810251836

e-mail: rbwproductions@gmail.com

.....